

I believe it is unfair to the rest of the amateur community to allow some amateurs to file unlimited numbers of applications for the same (one) vanity call sign. (I have a vanity call sign myself, but took my chances and only filed one application.) Please reconsider this practice.